

Tenth Problem of the Week, due Thursday 04/25 11:59pm

An eccentric mathematician gives you 25 pennies, and invites you to divide them into piles. Once you do, she will count the pennies in each pile, multiply together all of the pile sizes, and pay you a number of pennies equal to the product. What is the largest payout you can earn?